This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

SOCIETY FOR PROMOTING KNOWLEDGE.

LAWS OF THE SOCIETY.

I.

OBJECT OF THE SOCIETY.—The object of the Society is to promote knowledge by the establishment and maintenance of a Library, and by such other means as the Society may from time to time deem it advisable to adopt.

II.

CONSTITUENTS OF THE SOCIETY.—The Society consists of Proprietors and Members, duly admitted and qualified in the manner hereinafter stated, and none others are competent to vote at any of its meetings, or to fill any office in its management. Annual Subscribers are, however, admissible to the use of the Library, under the rules and regulations hereinafter contained.

III.

PROPRIETORS BY ELECTION.—Every candidate for election as a Proprietor must be recommended as a fit and proper person for admission into the Society, by a Proprietor or Member, in a printed form to be prepared for the purpose by the Committee. The name of each candidate shall be notified in the circular summoning the next meeting of Committee, at which he shall be balloted for; the admission fee of Two Guineas, together with whatever proportion of the annual contribution of One Guinea may be payable on account of the unexpired part of the current year, having been previously paid. A majority of the members of Committee present shall be competent to admit.

IV.

PROPRIETORS BY TRANSFER OR BEQUEST.—Any Proprietor may, by writing under his hand, addressed to the President or Secretary, transfer his interest in the Society, or may bequeath it by will; but the eligibility of the Assignee or Legatee shall be determined by the Committee in the ordinary mode of election. If duly elected, such Assignee or Legatee shall become a Proprietor without payment of any further admission fee, but shall be liable for arrears of subscription. If rejected by the Committee, the Proprietor, or his legal representative, shall have the power of nominating others, until a person be named who shall obtain the majority of votes.

V.

ANNUAL CONTRIBUTION PAYABLE BY PROPRIETORS.—Each Proprietor shall contribute to the funds of the Society One Guinea per annum, payable in advance, and falling due on the first day of January in each year. No Proprietor, whose annual contribution is unpaid, can vote at any meeting of the Society, or hold any office. Every Proprietor, whose annual contribution is twelve months in arrear, shall receive notice of his default through the Post Office or otherwise, and unless such arrear be paid off within two months from the receipt of such notice, he shall cease to be a Proprietor.

VI.

MEMBERS.—Whereas, by a law passed in the year 1843, it was enacted that persons might be admitted under the designation of "Members," who, after election by ballot in the same manner as Proprietors, and on payment of an admission fee of 21s., and an annual subscription of One Guinea, shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges of Proprietors, except the power of transferring or bequeathing their interest in the Society, it is hereby provided that Members shall enjoy the above rights so long as their annual subscription is continued. Members may at any time become Proprietors on payment of One Guinea as an addition to their former admission fee, without being proposed or balloted for a second time. Any Member duly elected may compound for his annual subscription by the payment of Eleven Guineas in one sum.

VII.

ANNUAL SUBSCRIBERS OF ONE GUINEA.—Persons desirous of the privilege of using the Library, without becoming Proprietors or Members, may be admitted as Annual Subscribers of One Guinea by the Committee, on being recommended and balloted for, as in the case of Proprietors by election; one year's subscription having been previously paid in advance, together with the proportion of the annual subscription that may be payable on account of the unexpired part of the current year. They shall be entitled to have two volumes at one time out of the Library, as stated in the Regulations, and shall have free use of the reading-room during Library hours. They may at any time become Proprietors by paying to the Treasurer the admission fee of Two Guineas, without the necessity of being proposed or balloted for a second time, or may in like manner become Members on payment of an entrance fee of One Guinea.

VIII.

ANNUAL SUBSCRIBERS OF HALF A GUINEA.—Persons employed as Apprentices, Clerks, Book-keepers, or Assistants, being recommended by Proprietors, Members, or Annual Subscribers of One Guinea, may become subscribers on giving a written guarantee from their employers or proposers, and on being balloted for by the Committee. Such persons shall pay in advance an annual subscription of 10s. 6d., together with the unexpired portion of the current year: they shall have permission to read in the Library, and to take out one volume at a time, but shall have no other privilege. They shall be subject to such regulations as the Committee shall from time to time enact.

IX.

MANAGEMENT OF THE SOCIETY'S BUSINESS.—The business of this Society shall be conducted by a President, Vice-President, Treasurer, Secretary, and a Committee of eleven, under the control of the Society at large; to be annually elected by ballot, at the General Meeting in February in each year. The President, Vice-President, Treasurer, and Secretary, to be ex-officio members of Committee: five to form a quorum.

X.

GENERAL MEETINGS.—The Annual General Meeting of the Society shall be held on the third Thursday in the month of February in each year, when the report of the Committee shall be read, and the Treasurer's account, as audited; a new Committee shall be chosen by ballot; an Auditor, not being a member of Committee, shall be appointed; and any Regulations which may be deemed necessary for the management of the Society's affairs shall be made. Special meetings shall be called by the President on receiving a requisition from five Proprietors or Members, stating the object of the proposed meeting. Three days' notice of every General Meeting, whether Annual or Special, shall be given by circular letter addressed to each Proprietor and Member, or else by advertisement in two or more newspapers published in Belfast.

XI.

FORM AND MANNER OF VOTING.—All elections, whether in the Committee or by the Society, shall be by ballot, and all divisions shall be decided by the majority of qualified persons actually present and voting. In either case, the Secretary shall call over the names of the qualified voters present who have paid their subscription for the current year, and each, as his name is called, shall deposit his ballot or record his vote.

XII.

THE PRESIDENT.—The President, or in his absence the Vice-President, or in the absence of both a chairman appointed by the meeting, shall preside at meetings of the Society and its Committee, with full power to preserve order in debate. In case of a division, he shall have a concurrent vote with the other members, and if the votes be equally divided, he shall also have a decisive or casting vote. He shall cause the proceedings of each meeting to be read over at the commencement of the succeeding one, and, if found correct, shall certify them by his signature. The President, or in case of his absence or illness the Vice-President, shall have power to summon, at any time, an extraordinary or special meeting of the Society, in the manner elsewhere prescribed in these laws.

XIII.

THE TREASURER.—The Treasurer shall receive all sums paid to the account of the Society, and make, out of the cash belonging to the Society in his hands, such payments as may be directed by the Committee, keeping an accurate account of both. He shall not issue any money on account of the Society without an order from the Committee, authenticated by the signature of the President, or the chairman of the meeting. He shall from time to time, keep the Committee informed of the state of the funds; and shall lay an abstract of his account, certified by the Auditor, before each annual meeting.

XIV.

THE SECRETARY.—The Secretary shall take care that the proceedings of the Society and its Committee are correctly recorded, and that such notifications as the Society or its committee may direct are duly sent by the Librarian to the persons to whom they are to be communicated. He shall also conduct the Society's correspondence, and shall from time to time lay before the Committee such parts therof as may require its decision or confirmation. In case of his absence, the meeting shall appoint a Secretary pro tempore.

XV.

POWERS AND DUTIES OF THE COMMITTEE.—The Committee shall meet on the first and third Thursdays of each month, at Eleven o'clock. When fewer than five members are present, the President, Vice-President, or, in their absence, the senior member present, shall invite as many of the Proprietors or members who first appear as may be necessary to form a quorum, to sit as Members of Committee for that day, provided that there be three Members of Committee present at the giving of such invitation. If a quorum of five cannot be obtained, the members attending shall have the power of passing books and lending out restricted books. The Committee shall have the power of appointing a Librarian, Sub-Librarian, and Porter, and of dismissing them when they see cause; of purchasing, or procuring on loan, books, maps, or other requisites; but it is hereby declared, in conformity with the object and uniform usage of this Society, that they have not power to purchase any novels or romances, except such as may be embodied in the collected works of their authors, or in Monthly Publications, containing Essays and Papers on other subjects. They shall have the power of filling up vacancies in their own number, in the case of death, resignation, or refusal to act; and of investigating the state of the funds and other property. They shall examine new books and books lately bound, inspect the Registers, Librarian's Registers, impose fines, and make a report to the Annual Meeting. They shall have power to make any orders and regulations, not being inconsistent with these Rules, which they may deem necessary for the satisfactory management of the Society's business, such orders and regulations to be valid till the next General Meeting of the Society. And should any controversy arise in Committee as to the interpretation of these Rules and Regulations, it is hereby declared that, for the immediate guidance of the members present, such questions shall be determined by the votes of the majority in the usual way.

XVI.

THE AUDITOR.—The Auditor shall, previously to each Annual Meeting of the Society, examine the Treasurer's account of the income and expenditure of the Society during the preceding year, ending with the 31st day of December, comparing the vouchers, and shall lay before the said meeting a correct abstract of the same, shewing the balance due to or by the Society at that date.

XVII.

EXPULSION OF DISORDERLY AND REFRACTORY PROPRIETORS, MEMBERS, &c.—Any person enjoying any privilege in connexion with the Society, who shall conduct himself in a disorderly manner at the meetings or upon the premises of the Society, or who shall persist in the violation of any of its Laws or Regulations, may be expelled by a General Meeting summoned specially for the purpose, provided that two thirds of the persons present and entitled to vote at such meeting shall vote for expulsion.

XVIII.

PERMANENCE OF THE SOCIETY.—The Society pledges itself to each Proprietor and Member, not to dissolve itself, or proceed to a division or dispersion of the property, without the unanimous consent of two General Meetings specially convened for the consideration of such question. This law is not to prevent the sale of duplicate or imperfect copies when authorized by the Committee.

XIX.

ENACTMENT, REPEAL, AND ALTERATION OF LAWS.—A Resolution, if approved at a General Meeting, shall be valid till the next Annual Meeting of the Society; but if it be desired to enact a permanent law, or to repeal or alter a law already existing, notice of the proposed change or enactment must be hung up in the Library at least two weeks before the General Meeting at which it is to be taken into consideration. If then approved or modified, it shall be acted upon as an ad interim Law, but shall not become permanent until it has been approved by a second General Meeting, after the observance of the same formalities.

REGULATIONS OF THE LIBRARY.

1. The Librarian shall attend in the Library every lawful day from Ten o'clock till Five; and every Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday from Seven o'clock till Nine, p.m., subject to any change that shall be made by order of the Committee. He shall have charge of the books and other property, for the safe keeping of which he shall be responsible. He shall hand to persons having the use of the Library such books, maps, &c., as they may wish to peruse or to inspect, and shall afterwards return them to their proper places. He shall keep a registry of the books lent out, taking care that no person shall have more than the regulated number of volumes at a time without a special order from the Committee. He shall have all books that have been inspected and approved by the Committee properly stamped before they are lent out. He shall report to the Committee all books that are detained beyond the time allowed for their perusal; all damage done to the books or other property of the Society; all subscriptions in arrear; and all fines incurred. He shall suspend the circulation of any book when it requires binding; call in books that may have been detained beyond the proper time, as limited by these rules; apprize new Proprietors, Members, Subscribers, Officers of the Society, &c., of their election; summon the members of Committee to the Ordinary and Special Meetings; and keep a register of the weather. He shall not lend out any book, &c., save on the personal application of a Proprietor, Member, or Subscriber, or to some person producing a written order from the applicant, which order he shall file.

2. No Proprietor or Member shall have the loan of more than four volumes at a time, without the permission of the Committee; nor shall an Annual Subscriber of One Guinea have more than two volumes, nor any Half Guinea Subscriber more than one volume, without such permission.

3. The time allowed for the use of an octavo, or small volume, is fourteen days; for a quarto, thirty days; for a folio, two months; but at the expiration of those periods the loan may be renewed to the same applicant if no other has applied for it; and Proprietors, Members, or Subscribers residing four miles from Belfast, may keep a book for six days longer than the times above specified. It shall be in the power of the Committee to shorten the above periods in the case of books newly received. Any person detaining any book or books after receiving notice from the Librarian of the expiration of the time allowed for perusal, shall pay a fine of 2d. per day for each volume so detained, one day after the notice being allowed to persons within five miles of Belfast, and three for persons residing beyond that distance, for returning the books.

4. An Application Book shall be kept in the Library, in which any Proprietor, Member, or Subscriber may enter his name as applying for the loan of any book that he may wish to peruse; and the Librarian shall send the book or books so applied for to the applicants in the order of their application, provided always that no person shall be allowed to have more than one work at a time of those specially applied for; and if he be not enabled to have the loan of any volume for which he has applied, in consequence of his having already another book for which he had also applied, his name shall be transferred to the foot of the list of applicants for that volume; nor shall he be allowed to enter his name as applying for more than one periodical at a time; nor, if he has one periodical, to enter his name for a second till he shall have returned the former.

5. Any person entitled to take out a book may, instead, require the Librarian to keep it for such time as he would be entitled to keep it out, for the purpose of his reading it in the Library. Any book so kept shall count as if taken out.

6. Books shall not be entered in the Catalogue, nor lent out, until inspected by the Committee or a Sub-Committee; but, in the meantime, shall lie on the Library table for the use of the Proprietors, Members, and Subscribers. Periodicals, if published quarterly, shall not be lent out until they have remained one month in the Library; if published once every two months, they shall remain three weeks; if published once a month, or oftener, a fortnight.

7. A Proposal Book shall be kept in the Library, in which any Proprietor, Member, or Subscriber may enter the title, character, and price of such books as he wishes the Committee to order, annexing his name. These entries shall be read at the next meeting of the Committee, and the books shall be ordered or rejected at the next meeting in succession.

8. Books entered in the Catalogue marked thus () are never to be lent out. Books marked thus (*) to be lent out only on an order from one of the Committee, and on the applicant depositing with the Librarian the full value of the entire book or set of books of which it may form a part, and giving him a written acknowledgment for the same. Any member borrowing a restricted book shall be held responsible for the state in which it shall be returned by him, unless he point out to the Librarian, before taking it out of the Library, the damage which it had previously sustained. The Librarian shall examine, on its return, every restricted book that has been borrowed, and, in case of its having sustained damage while in the borrower's custody, he shall not give back the deposit until the book has been inspected by the Committee, and accepted by them.

9. A Proprietor or Member may introduce a stranger, not residing within ten miles of Belfast, or a gentleman who is only a temporary resident in the town, to read in the Library during Library hours; the introducer engaging to be responsible for his friend, and entering his name in a Visitor's Book, which shall be kept in the Library for that purpose.

10. Any Proprietor, Member, Subscriber, or Visitor injuring the property of the Society, shall make such compensation as the Committee shall determine; and any Proprietor, Member, or Subscriber lending a book the property of the Society to any person not a Proprietor, Member, or Subscriber, shall be subject to a fine of ten shillings; and if any Proprietor, Member, or Subscriber, or Visitor, shall take any book out of the Library without giving notice to the Librarian, or in violation of these regulations, it shall be in the power of the Committee to refuse to the person so offending admission into the Library until he has paid such fine as the Committee may impose upon him, and has entered into an engagement not to infringe the rules in future.
